

2025 Council Nominees

Keith Hiltz

I was fortunate to work in education for 36 years and throughout that time I learned much about working with youth and their families. Families and youth seek authentic experiences that meet their current and future needs and interests. Further, I have my own family and adult children from whom I have learned much.

I am constantly engaged in my own spiritual growth and, as part of my professional life, have always worked to engage adults in growth experiences. Adults seek variety and choice of relevant options for their personal growth.

Community is based on common goals and everyone engaging in the work. The plan that Pastor Gary has developed strives to meet these ends.

Randy Trollop

I am not sure how I can personally help, but I will strive as a council member to get Sunday school up and running again, without it I don't know how we can expect to grow our church.

Adult spiritual growth is kind of a personal decision, but I will encourage friends and family to be an active part of our Saint Andrew family and worship.

Strengthening our sense of community is a little vague, but if it means helping Saint Andrew become more involved and aware of our community I will help in any way I can.

Karen Wegge

I have been a member at Saint Andrew for 17 years and I have served on the SALC Council for the past two years. I participate in the bell choir, other music special events, Social Advocacy Ministry, and volunteer for Saint Andrew community projects. I also served on the most recent Ministry Site Profile committee.

I recently retired from education after 34 years of service. I believe my teaching and administration experience bring a unique skillset to the council. I strive to value, respect and include all people. I am committed to creating a welcoming and supportive environment at SALC and in the community.

I can help to strengthen our sense of community by listening and leading with a compassionate heart. To me, leading with a compassionate heart means reflecting Christ's care for all people. By working together, we can share God's love and make a difference in each other's lives and in the lives of others.
